

"JOLLY UNCLE BILL" KNOWS A THING OR TWO

time may be wiped out in a few minutes, not so if you are insured. Therefore, I would advise you to place your insurance with Schneller & Lawrence, 205 Fifth street. They conduct one of the best fire insurance agencies in this city. The record of this agency covers several years, attesting public confidence in the most enviable manner. A large business conducted through a number of years, obviously carries many advantages, among them, not only the representation of the strongest "old line" companies, but that familiarity with policy forms and other important features of the contract which only experience can afford. Schneller & Lawrence control the insurance of the best factory, mercantile and residence properties in this city. They aim so to write a contract that may be interpreted here as well as after the fire, thus avoiding these legal quibbles which sometimes stand in the way of the collection of the insurance. Through honorable dealings, prompt and careful attention to the interest of their patrons, Schneller & Lawrence have a reputation in insurance circles of which they must be well satisfied. The appalling fire waste of the past few years has culminated in the retirement and withdrawal of some fifty insurance companies. The business has, in the main, been conducted at a loss, and it will behoove you to look well into the financial standing and soundness of the companies whose policies you purchase. Schneller & Lawrence represent only the best "old line" companies under any circumstances. They also issue bonds against burglary, and yourself against accident, including insurance for automobiles, plate glass, elevators and steam boilers. You can sleep well when your business is in their hands.

"For all staple products," says Uncle Bill to Harry, "there is none of more surpassing importance than coal. Now is the time to order your next winter's supply. The sooner you do so the less you will have to pay for it. The People's Fuel company, of which Richard Vincent is manager, corner of Fifth and Red Jacket road, can quote you prices as low as any reliable dealer in town. They command a large trade and supply the best families. They handle some of the leading brands of hard and soft coal, and none but the best grades. They make a large trade of inferior or substitute grades. They make a specialty of the Delaware & Lackawanna Railroad company's famous 'Scranton' brand of coal, for which they are the sole agents for the Copper Country, conducting a branch yard at Hancock and Houghton. 'Scranton' coal for family use is the cleanest and hottest and most economical coal on the market. It is especially prepared for the range and the most popular fuel for domestic purposes. 'Scranton' coal is a powerful heat producer, the combustion being sustained in a manner that insures the greatest economy, and is guaranteed to maintain in every respect the highest standard of excellence and holds the front rank. It comes from the best equipped collieries in Pennsylvania and is carefully screened. It is, therefore, the best for family use, being clean, bright and free from slate. Your fires will cost you less if you use 'Scranton' coal, and you will get more warmth out of a fire made with it. 'Scranton' coal is a clean fuel, has no soot or clinkers; and does not lose its strength in the blue or open air. The People's Fuel company carry a full stock at all times, and can give you any quantity you may desire, at short notice, as all orders, large or small, receive the same attention. In buying your coal from the People's Fuel company you can rest assured that the full weight will be given you, and that it will be free from waste and dirt. 'Scranton' coal is hot stuff, it makes warm friends."

"There is one thing that I would like to suggest," said Hattie, "and that is an establishment where I can find the choicest of prime and well-conditioned meats. You know the ordinary run of people are inclined to have a preference for tender meats." "To be sure I do," said Uncle Bill, "and I know just the right party to suit you. Patronize Frank H. Schumaker, who is now offering strictly fine meats. His customers embrace the best people who patronize him liberally. Occasionally, a dealer may unknowingly sell an inferior grade of meat, but if they exercise the care that Frank H. Schumaker does, this occurrence would be rare. His meats are the choicest on the market, which is the result of careful buying and long experience. He conducts one of the best meat-markets in the city, at 401 Sixth street, and you can rest assured of getting a good equivalent for your money. His market upon entering has an air of cleanliness, purity, freshness and good management, and is fully equipped with all modern fixtures and cold storage for the preservation of perishable articles during the hot weather. Here at all times, my young lady, you can find beef, mutton, lamb, veal, pork and home-rendered lard, and his own make of sausages, which are made daily. Frank H. Schumaker sells exclusively the best grade of hams, which are unexcelled. They are of the finest quality obtainable, sweet, juicy and tender. They have a delicious taste, which whets the appetite, and satisfies the hunger with its wholesome goodness. Frank H. Schumaker makes a specialty of 'fancy-cut meats'."

"The demand for pure ice by the people of Calumet," said the old gentleman, "has assumed immense proportions of recent years, owing to the fact that it enters largely into home consumption, which effects their health, comfort and well-being. It is a necessity of modern life, especially during the heated term, and is no longer a luxury as it formerly was, but it is found in the modest home of the mechanic as well as in the mansion of the millionaire. Purity is the prime requisite in this cooling commodity, but it is not always found, for there is no question that a considerable portion of the ice that finds its way to the market is polluted to a greater or less degree. It is a pleasure, therefore, to know that the Crystal Ice company, with office at 214 Fifth street, furnishes their patrons with a pure article, of which there is no need to fear that it is in the slightest degree contaminated. They do not harvest ice from waters that are tainted with typhoid or other dangerous germs, their ice is, therefore, the best for the table, it being devoid of all impurities. The Crystal Ice company maintains a first-class trade in Calumet and Laurium, their family trade being the best. Their system of wagon delivery has been perfected, and no pains are spared to insure the most complete and uniform satisfaction to patrons. I would advise you to use 'Crystal' ice, as it is the best. They guarantee the best service and correct weight. Then again, they can take care of extra orders at all hours during the day. A telephone call will bring their wagon to your door."

"If there is one thing that I dislike about our orthodox domestic economy," continued the old gentleman to Harry, "it is that of expecting our women to stand over a hot stove, burning their faces and worrying that their bread may be heavy, when bread of such excellence is made by Eggen & Hoyen, 328 Hecla street, Laurium. It is manufactured in a uniformly high standard of excellence, and none but skilled workmen are employed. Eggen & Hoyen exercise close personal supervision over all departments, which are thoroughly equipped with the most complete appliances for furnishing bread, the staff of life. 'Eggen & Hoyen's' bread is sweet, rich and moist. Their process of baking holds the steam in the bread, and retains all the aroma, flavor and nutriment of the wheat. By Eggen & Hoyen's process every bit of gluten in the wheat is utilized, and the result is a loaf as 'mother used to make,' delicious to the taste, and does not dry out and get stale the day after it is baked or cut. 'Eggen & Hoyen's' bread is the most healthful, economical and longest-keeping bread ever made. It is devoid of all deleterious ingredients, and can be relied upon as nothing but the best materials are used in its manufacture, and it is noted for its smoothness and sweetness. There are other makes of bread sold in this city, but none as good as 'Eggen & Hoyen's'. It is the best made at any price. Don't believe anyone who says that another kind is just as good. It isn't. 'Eggen & Hoyen's' bread is made to eat. The best grocers sell it. An order by mail or telephone will bring 'Eggen & Hoyen's' wagon to your door."

"Now, my dear boy," said the old gentleman to Harry, "I have left a duty and a pleasure for you to perform, and would suggest as a handsome and ornamental present for your wife, a good piano. The fair sex appreciate a gift of that kind more than anything else. 'Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast,' and melody is doubly divine and entrancing when produced by an 'A. B. Chase' piano, for those who have one would not exchange it for the world. They are sold right here in Calumet, by Joseph Hermann, 111 Fifth street, and you can buy them on terms to suit your own convenience. The 'A. B. Chase' pianos are endorsed by the leading musicians of both continents, and are known as the queen of instruments. They combine purity of tone, sweetness and power in a manner attained by no other piano, and are known the world over for their durability and workmanship. The magnificent tone, and exquisite action are so responsive to the touch. Qualities such as this piano possesses certainly indicates thorough knowledge and skill in piano building. Years of patient study and toil have developed a delightful softness of touch and beauty of tone afforded by no other piano. The tone should be the first consideration, and the 'A. B. Chase' piano has been aptly termed the 'piano with the singing tone.' No sweeter quality of tone could be produced, and yet behind the sweetness is rich depth and resonance. The best music in the world is the music which gives the true interpretation of the feeling and the emotions. The 'A. B. Chase' pianos are built for the finest shade of emotional expression. In this and in the way the 'A. B. Chase' pianos retain their full rich tone without change, year after year, they stand alone. No matter what you would pay, you can't get nothing better. The 'A. B. Chase' piano will delight and satisfy you."

"As you need a cloak to match your costume," remarked the old gentleman to Hattie, "and as there is one of the most complete cloak houses in this city, that known as the Red Front store, 225 Fifth street, we'll go there. Their knowledge of the requirements of the business, their correct and cultivated taste, brought recognition to their enterprise and public appreciation of their efforts. They have had long experience in this line and are in constant communication with New York and other markets to keep thoroughly posted upon the fashions, and are thus enabled to present their patrons the very latest and most desirable cloaks, suits and furs, at all seasons. When you need a tailored suit, is it not to your interest to get the best you can for the purchase price? Of course. Then you must get them at the Red Front store because they are specialists in ready-to-wear suits. Here you will find the fashionable, stunning styles of ladies' coats, suits, skirts and rain coats. The Red Front store are now showing an entirely new line of tailor-made stylish suits for women and misses, in which the very latest fashions in make and fabric, have been closely followed. This season's styles are the prettiest for years, and never before has the trade been able to offer such exquisite suit and coat material. You will find at the Red Front store, suits of great beauty and variety, comprising the newest, best and most individual products of American, French and English tailors. The Red Front store guarantee everything they sell, and to assure every customer that the garment, if not satisfactory, may be returned. Hundreds of the most discriminating ladies of Calumet have learned to place implicit reliance in their judgment in the matter of cloaks, suits and furs, and to regard their establishment as the leading one in its line in this city."

"Your wife, fortunately is one of the best bread-makers that ever quenched it over an oven," says Uncle Bill to Harry, "but the most essential part of bread-making is good flour. I can, like thousands of others in Calumet recommend 'Cremo' flour. It is without rival and saves a heap of feminine temper. The output of 'Cremo' flour is constantly maintained at the highest standard of excellence, and challenges duplication with any flour on the market. It is milled from the choicest wheat, scrupulously cleaned by a patent process, and never touched by human hands in its process of making. 'Cremo' flour makes good bread, rolls, biscuits and pastry of a delicious, satisfying quality, unattainable save in a flour made of rich glutinous wheat. 'Cremo' is the finest all-around flour on the market. Results produced please the eye and the palate, and the milling methods employed are such as to preserve in their fullest strength and usefulness all the nutritious elements of the finest wheat. 'Cremo' flour makes the baking white, light, delicious and healthful. It has proven the very best by every baking test. All so proven that it saves you money, because it makes you better and more loaves to the sack than any other flour. 'Cremo' flour has reached the top-notch of excellence, and be sure no other brand gets into your kitchen. All the best grocers sell 'Cremo' flour. In order to be sure that you get the right kind, always say 'Cremo' before you say flour. If your dealer does not handle 'Cremo' flour he can get it for you from E. R. Godfrey & Sons Co., distributors of 'Cremo' flour, with warehouses at Calumet and Hancock."

"Turning to Hattie, the old gentleman suggested a visit to some place of refreshment, and they betook themselves to an ice cream parlor on Fifth street, where they regaled themselves on ice cream 'delicious as from the gods,' so Hattie declared. Then after further refreshments delightfully prepared, Hattie was loud in her praises of the ice cream. "Yes," said Uncle Bill, "The ice cream: that you are so delighted with is known as 'Barotti Bros.' and is manufactured by them at 311 Fifth street." It is a well known fact that 'Barotti Bros.' ice cream cannot be beaten in this vicinity for purity and quality. Its thick creamy richness is due to pure cream from a private dairy, and flavored with prime, fresh and crushed fruits, and packed in non-leakable carry-out pails, well-iced and delivered to dealers, parties, private families, hotels, restaurants, etc., making a specialty of furnishing lawn parties, picnics and excursions, weddings, receptions, church, lodge and club events. They cater to family trade to whom they will deliver to any part of Calumet and Laurium and surrounding vicinity. 'Barotti Bros.' ice cream is smooth, delicious and satisfying. It possesses the palatable smoothness and delicious flavor so highly appreciated. They can also supply you with everything in the line of candy and fruits and make a specialty of their own make of chocolates which are unexcelled for high quality. If you're fond of chocolates, you'd go a long way to get 'Barotti Bros.' chocolates, once you try them. Buy them just once and you'll be sure to insist on them ever after. 'Barotti Bros.' chocolates are as sweet as a kiss."

Harry suggested a smoke and Hattie excused them. Said Harry, "I would like to try a 'Dan Patch' cigar. I have heard so much about them around town. A good selection, my boy," said Uncle Bill, "as the 'Dan Patch' is acknowledged to be the best cigar in town sold for ten cents. It is guaranteed to give the customer the most value for the money obtainable in cigars. M. W. Seifert, 436 Hecla street, Laurium, is the manufacturer of 'Dan Patch' cigars and also the well known brand known as 'Seifert's Havanas,' whose long experience and constant observation has enabled him to place before the public the best ten cent cigars on the market. M. W. Seifert knows how good 'Dan Patch' and 'Seifert's Havanas' cigars are—so will you after you have smoked one. A trial is all he asks—the quality will do the rest. 'Dan Patch' and 'Seifert's Havanas' are two of the most extensively used and widely known brands of ten cent cigars in the city, and wherever tested, they have been pronounced the superior in make and quality of tobacco. 'Dan Patch' and 'Seifert's Havanas' are a delight to men of cultivated taste. They are guaranteed made with a genuine long Havana filler—no scraps, dust or tobacco sweepings. They are strictly hand-made by skilled workmen, under the cleanest and most sanitary conditions, and are always uniform, fragrant, free burning and delightful. They are sold by all first class dealers. Ask for them and see that you get them. The full, rich fragrance of a 'Dan Patch' or 'Seifert's Havanas' fills with contentment the heart of the discriminating smoker."

"Well, it is about noon time, and I think we had better all the inner man," said the old gentleman. "We will go to 'Salasaa's' cafe, corner of Sixth and Elm streets, of which Charles Salasaa is proprietor. It is one of the crack institutions of the city, and the most popular place for dining in town, and it is noted for having the best in the market. The universal verdict of those who have paid 'Salasaa's' cafe a visit is that it understands what the public wants, and is a connoisseur par excellence. He thoroughly understands the business for a practical experience and that is indispensable for success as a restaurateur. The entire premises are fitted up in a first-class style, and here at all times can be obtained meals, hot and cold lunch, comprising all the delicacies that the market affords, and everything is prepared in the highest style of the culinary art and temptingly served by courteous assistants. A very able chef is employed, and the many patrons of this attractive establishment agree that nowhere in Calumet are lobster, oysters, game, steak, chops and other attractive dishes as well, and deliciously served. A specialty is made of regular meals, and make a specialty of serving banquets, receptions, luncheons and dinner parties. For reliable service and satisfactory refreshments, all visitors to Calumet will do well to call at 'Salasaa's' cafe."

"For a tailored suit," remarked the old gentleman to Harry, "I would advise you to patronize John B. Rastello, 215 Sixth street. At his finely appointed store, you will find a complete assortment of high-grade English and Scotch notions, imported and domestic cashmeres and chevrons; also English dress and undress worsteds in all the latest and most desirable styles, unsurpassed in fit, comfort and finish by any similar establishment in this section. John B. Rastello is now showing an exceptionally complete and attractive line of goods, some of the season's handiwork fabrics, made up in all the popular styles, and workmanship such as is produced only by the higher grade tailors. John B. Rastello does not sell from samples, but shows you the goods, and cuts and makes your suit from the piece you select. The tailor in a suit of clothes is a matter in which very few have expert knowledge, and for this reason, you should be very careful as to where you place your order. If you buy of a tailor that sends his garments out of the city to be made, he is handling a ready-made garment. You may also have your order with a tailor who does not employ practical workmen. If this is the case, you cannot expect first-class workmanship, which means everything to a suit of clothes. First-class custom garments are made by first-class journeymen tailors, and receive a fixed price for each garment turned out. This is the class of workmen employed by John B. Rastello, and it is for this reason that his garments have a distinction from all others. Each garment is guaranteed to be perfect in fit and quality."

"Many people," said Uncle Bill to Harry, "do not appreciate the fact that they waste a great deal of money by throwing away soiled garments that are practically as good as new in everything but their appearance, but they make no effort to have them look as good as new, because their experience with small clothes-cleaning and repairing establishments has been decidedly unsatisfactory. Calumet can boast of a first-class establishment in this line, in that known as the Calumet Cleaning & Dye Works, of which Burt Barnham is proprietor, 212 Sixth street. A specialty is made of dry-cleaning, pressing, high-class repairing and remodelling, including the refining of ladies' and gentlemen's garments, and the work is fully equal to the best in every respect and such prizes quoted by them are low enough to suit the most economically disposed. Their clothes-cleaning is performed with the 'steam' and 'French' process of dry-cleaning, which brightens up all colors and completely takes out soil-stains and grease spots. In the alteration and repairing of garments, the Calumet Cleaning & Dye Works guarantee the best possible to put into a garment. They have the only steam-pressing machine in the copper country. It is the celebrated 'Hoffman,' which is a combination of steam, heat and pressure; sponging and pressing the garment at the same time. The Calumet Cleaning & Dye Works give particular attention to dyeing ladies' and gentlemen's garments of every description, and make a specialty of carpet-cleaning. By their process, carpets are uniformly beaten their entire length and breadth, without the least injury, and all dust and moths thoroughly expelled. All orders sent by express will receive prompt attention, or you can call them up by telephone, and they will call for your goods."

"Automobile riding is all the go now," says Uncle Bill to Harry, "An automobile must be very good or it is no good. Many think automobiles undesirable many makes contribute to this impression. If you are to get an auto, I would advise you to get the famous Chalmers-Detroit '30' or '40' sold exclusively by the Michigan Auto company, 211 Sixth street. The 'Chalmers-Detroit' or '40' will interest anyone interested in automobiles. They are unequalled for speed, safety and dependability; every part is built to wear and stand the strain of American roads, and there is no mud too deep or hill too steep for it to climb. The 'Chalmers-Detroit' is a quality car for the gentleman driver who wants power, speed, accessibility and satisfaction. Merit, based on conscientious and careful manufacture, makes the 'Chalmers-Detroit' king in the hearts of those who buy automobiles and know excellence. Their manufacture is the sole occupation of masters of their craft, whose pride is in the making of the best. The 'Chalmers-Detroit' is the standard. It has proven its merit and has survived the supreme test of public favor, and is today the favorite automobile of five continents. No matter how much money you pay, you cannot buy another car like the 'Chalmers-Detroit'. There is no other motor car with its flexibility, ease and control, simplicity and all other qualities most desired by motorists. These are found in the 'Chalmers-Detroit'. A demonstration is a revelation, and this you can have for the asking, for the management of the Michigan Auto company take a great pride in showing the good points of the Chalmers-Detroit '30' or '40' over all other automobiles."

"I wish you would recommend some laundry," said Hattie to Uncle Bill, "I am afraid that I can never satisfy his lordship as to his linen." "Alright," laughed the old gentleman, "send it to the Columbia Steam Laundry, 243 Hecla street, Laurium. It is needless to remark that this is the most popular laundry in this section. There are many laundries in many cities, and some of them are excellent institutions. But those who have been in laundries all over the United States, say that nowhere is there one more complete in its equipment, more perfectly systematized in its methods, or more scientific in its process than the 'Columbia'. The most delicate fabrics are treated with the greatest care, and the work turned out is unrivaled for finish and uniform excellence, and has found unusual favor with the public. It is their desire and intention never to slight their work and to that end they employ none but the very best and experienced operatives. In fact, the work of the 'Columbia' is superior to that of any other laundry in the Copper Country. Angus McLennan, proprietor, considers the correct treatment of clothes in washing and ironing of great importance to the people, and he is constantly studying to improve. He employs all the best devices and non-destructive machinery that accomplishes the desired results with no injury to the fabric. The work of the 'Columbia' is as near faultlessness as human skill can accomplish, and justly merits all the praise bestowed upon it by the public. Work is called for and delivered in all parts of Calumet and Laurium. And now, Hattie, as the 'Columbia' laundry is patronized by the best people in town, I would advise you to do the same. You won't have to be a slave at the wash-tub if you will patronize the 'Columbia' laundry, as they are able to accept your flat pieces with a positive guarantee of prompt delivery, and you will have them done at a less cost than if done at home, and all your flat pieces are ironed. Drop them a postal or call them up by phone, and their wagon will call for your bundle."

"The rapid progress noticeable in every department of commercial and financial activity, and the increase of wealth, enterprise and population during recent years," said Uncle Bill, "have opened a vast field of usefulness, full of promise for the young man and woman who are qualified by the proper education to efficiently discharge the duties devolved upon them in banks, stores, offices and manufacturing establishments. The most momentous problem with the public is where they can perfectly and satisfactorily obtain the technical, theoretical and practical education now absolutely and essentially requisite to successful life. To the student, his or her time, or intellectual energies are capital, and it is important that the capital should be prudently and wisely invested by attending the best business college or school. Unquestionably in every respect, the peer of any similar institution in America, the Laurium Commercial School, of which A. J. Holden is principal, offers facilities and inducements for the acquisition of a complete and thorough business education afforded by few, if any, of the older contemporaries. This school occupies commodious and tastefully arranged quarters in the Monroe Block, 314 Hecla street, Laurium, supplied with every appliance that can add to the profit and convenience of the students. The course of study embraces a system of actual business practice, the same as is given in the largest and most successful institutions of the kind in the country. A specialty is made of actual business, bookkeeping, commercial law, penmanship, grammar, arithmetic, shorthand, touch typewriting and other kindred branches. A day and night session is conducted."

"There is no doubt," said Uncle Bill, "that the judicious use of soda-water, mineral water and agreeable flavored non-intoxicating drinks of all kinds are healthful as well as pleasant, provided they are made from non-injurious materials carefully compounded. But it is an open secret that many of the so-called soft drinks, including many healthful tonics, etc., are far more harmful than healthful. As such cannot be detected by taste alone, it is obvious that the only sure protection against them is to insist upon being served with Joseph James' pure, sparkling carbonated beverages, put up in all the popular flavors of soda, at 201 Pine street, and are strictly first-class and uniformly reliable. 'James' beverages are made of pure carbonated water, and nothing but healthful ingredients enter into their composition, and are put up in a clean and sanitary factory, every bottle being soaked, washed and rinsed in pure distilled water. 'James' great specialty is 'Iron Brew,' the drink of quality. 'Iron Brew' is a sparkling and healthy beverage, and is for sale by the best dealers in Calumet and Laurium. As a wholesome and invigorating drink you will find 'Iron Brew' refreshing and cooling. It has no equal and is one of the most delicious beverages on the market. 'Iron Brew' is the kind you like, with a delicious snappy satisfying thirst-quenching and extremely delicious taste. It is wholesome, cooling, refreshes the brain, body and nerves. There are several imitations in this section, so in order to be sure that you get 'Iron Brew' see that the name 'Joseph James' is on the label. Here also is manufactured the celebrated 'Camden Brand' of ginger ale. It is the genuine article and is skillfully blended, cleanly bottled and properly aged. All of 'James' goods are guaranteed to comply with the 'Pure Food Laws.' You can order a case at your home by telephone, as deliveries are made to all parts of Calumet and Laurium, and surrounding vicinity."

"In this age of enlightenment and progress," said Uncle Bill, "old-fashioned methods have no chance, and there is no line in which this fact is so forcibly demonstrated as in printing. People want good work and modern work and it is because they are so well able to fill these requirements that Scott & Roberts, 211 Sixth street, have made such a large success of their business, and enjoy such wide-spread popularity. They have exhibited the greatest enterprise, keeping fully abreast of the times and improvements of the age, and meeting with the most flattering success in every department of the work. Scott & Roberts execute work of the highest artistic character, and nothing ever leaves their place which is not thoroughly first-class. They make a specialty of commercial printing at low prices, or anything from a simple business card to an illustrated trade catalogue, having excellent facilities for the execution of any description of work in their line. Scott & Roberts' plant is complete in every detail, being furnished with presses of the latest and most improved make, and all applications of a first-class modern printing house, including the latest styles of type. Their up-to-date equipment makes your printing cost less. They are constantly on the alert to select upon every new method and practical device of the craft to better and cheapen their producing facilities."

"The value of lager beer as a food is becoming well-known," says the old gentleman to Harry, "and it is now used by many who have hitherto looked upon it as a beverage only. In all my experience I must say that I know of no more luxurious, health-giving and invigorating drink than that of the Pabst Brewing company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, brewers and bottlers of the famous Blue Ribbon beer. It is the most nourishing of all beers because it contains every particle of the healthful, wholesome nutriment of the malt, and all of the properties of the hops from which it is made. 'Blue Ribbon' is the highest grade of bottled beer sold in this city, being bottled at the brewery, and it is adapted especially for family use. It is guaranteed thoroughly aged, and for purity, taste, brilliancy and aroma, it cannot be excelled. 'Blue Ribbon' beer is pronounced without exaggeration to be the most wholesome and invigorating beverage on the market, and always meets with the approbation of the best judges. It is recommended by physicians as a beverage of rare health-giving qualities, rich in nutriment and devoid of adulteration and deleterious elements. There is a tone in 'Blue Ribbon' beer, the kind that puts you in tune with the world and makes you feel at your best. Drink 'Blue Ribbon' and you put health and strength into your system. You can have a case at your home for the telephoning, or by having an order at the office of the Calumet Branch depot, corner of Scott street, conducted under the management of A. J. Curtis, as they give special attention to family trade."
